KUALA LUMPUR: Hotel Maya Kuala Lumpur held its annual staff dinner and dance recently in appreciation of its employees' hard work and efforts for the year 2008.

The big bash with the theme "The Oscars -- Black & Red Night" was held at the hotel ballroom. Decorations included the replica of a Hollywood Oscar statue at the entrance, with the ballroom bedecked in black and red. Preparations for the annual dinner started as early as three months prior to the actual event.

Guests were treated to a buffet featuring assorted sushi, seafood tom yam soup, Australian roasted turkey with roasted herb and baby potatoes, barbecued lamb with mint jelly and black pepper sauce, exotic fruit tartlet and assorted ice cream.

The lively antics of guest emcee Melvin Rudy Aeria, who played amusing interactive games with the audience, added to the fun.

Awards for best dressed employee, perfect attendance and employee of the year were also presented.

Six teams of employees entertained the crowd with their creative performances ranging from dance, drama and skits.

No one walked away empty-handed as each employee received an MP3 player as a door gift, while over 100 employees took home various lucky draw prizes like DVD players, a microwave oven, washing machine, laptop, television, mobile phone, hotel and dining vouchers, and festive hampers.

Karen Low of the hotel's sales department bagged the lucky draw grand prize of RM 3,000.

After all the results were announced and prizes given away, the employees stayed on to dance the night away.
